Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: The following is a response to applicant's remarks in the after final reply filed by the applicant on 1/21/2005.

Applicant notes that the applicant was not aware that official notice was being taken. The examiner directs the applicant's attention to MPEP section 2144.03 that defines what the taking of official notice is and how it can be recognized. Please also note that the examiner had presented a 103 with no other cited reference and appropriately cited official notice and/or a Prima Facie case of equivalence through common knowledge statements. These statements are clearly evident when the office action is read and considered in its entirety. The examiner also directs the applicant's attention to CFR 37 1.111, which requires that the applicant answer any and all objections and rejections by clearly articulating how the claims of the instant application overcome the prior art. Finally since the applicant did not seasonably traverse the taking of official notice the statements are taken to be admitted prior art (MPEP 2144.04(C)).

Applicant takes exception to the examiner's note that the applicant should consider the entire reference. The examiner directs the applicant's attention to CFR 37 1.104(C), which states that "when a reference is complex or shows or describes inventions other than that claimed by the applicant, the particular part relied on must be designated as nearly as practicable." Since the broadly recited independent claims and there function can be found in numerous sections of the Downs reference, it would not be practicable to list each and every part where the features can be found. Further, as is stated in CFR 1.111 the applicant's reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over the applied references."

In regards to applicant's arguments that the examiner should not and cannot merely categorize the recited black box of the claims as being with regards to encryption keys only, it is once again noted that the examiner must not read limitations into the claims from the specification as the applicant is urging, and can only consider these limitations if they are presented as part of the claim language.

The examiner welcomes any further discussions to clarify the examiner's position and to further advance the prosecution of the instant application. The examiner can be reached at (703) 605-4252.
